

"It's a big world out there; it would be a loss not to experience it." Hi! My name is Satwinder Kaur and I live in Punjab, India. It is very well said that the world out there is not on your side nor your enemy so be the one who is on the right side. With the spirit of the motivational quote I decided to achieve something big in life. As in today's world being a highly educated person is not enough, one must need practical knowledge. I realized on my scale that I won't get from India, which my native country. So I decided to apply to the USA for my higher studies. I finalized the USA just because of its flexible education system.

If we talk about my previous education, I have completed my matriculation examination in the year 2011 from PSEB and did my senior secondary examination in year 2013 from Punjab school education board; further to this I also have completed my bachelor's degree in Arts in 2016 from Panjab University.

Why I chose States:-

Let me tell you the plus point of choosing America as my next destination to study. As I have mentioned above, the USA has the flexibility of education, and I will be able to gain practical knowledge as well as theoretical knowledge. Plus the USA has the world's best universities with plenty of courses and programs available. Now is the time to do something big in my life, being in the states would be a different experience and life changing for each and every student like me. The US government has diff plans for international students and nationals. According to me, the educational system there is the best system ever. It's very well said that the USA is the bunch of best colleges and universities. That is why being admitted to an American university is a big thing in itself.

Why I chose Lincoln:

As we all know that American universities are known for the best educational system for practical knowledge as well for the other academics. Taking the entire important thing in mind I chose Lincoln University, as it offers unique advantages to its students that include quality instruction, affordable tuition, career options and many more. This university maintains its unique purpose and educational philosophy. Being an international student, this university has its unique groups and student support councils, which is the best factor for me. As an international student I would be able to get the best education and would have the opportunity to study in one of the best universities. Lincoln university is not a fresh university, this is the very attractive point for me to get admitted to this university, as it has a unique origin. I would be honored to be a part of this university.

Why I chose this course:

In accordance with my previous study, my upcoming course is very much related to each other. I have applied for an MBA in the USA and I have done B.Com as my previous qualification. Being in this field is not like only studying, although I will enjoy the subjects and the theme. I will start my own small business after coming back to my home country. I will have the international degree to start my own start up which will be the plus point for my career.
