

My name is Mandeep Kaur, I am from Haryana. I have completed my matriculation examination in the year 2014 from Central Board of secondary Education Board and did my senior secondary examination in 2016 from the same board after this I completed my bachelor's degree in Bachelor of commerce from Kurukshetra University in May 2019 and after completing my bachelors I was interested in business and management hence I completed my Masters in Business administration in May 2021.

I chose America for my further studies as the USA has the flexibility of education and great programs to choose from. Plus the USA has the world's best universities with a large number of courses and programs available. Studying in the United States would be a different experience and life changing for each and every student like me. The US government has different plans for international students. According to me the educational system there is the best system in comparison with other countries. The USA has a bunch of best colleges and universities. That is why getting admission in an American university is a big thing in itself. The USA has the most number of international students in the world. Quality education, unique curriculum, & abundant opportunities are some of the reasons why many Indian students want to study in the USA

As we all know, American universities are known for the best educational system. Taking the entire important thing in mind, I decided to pursue my studies from Lincoln University, as it offers unique advantages to its students that include quality instruction, affordable tuition, career options and many more. This university maintains its unique purpose and educational philosophy. The admission criteria is also very simple. Being an international student I would like to join a university where I can feel like home and I think Lincoln University's campus will make me feel the same. After researching a lot I came to a conclusion that I will complete my further studies from Lincoln University.

As I have already done my Masters degree in Business administration, I learned a lot of things like Business administration is not a limited field of study, its branches are widespread and there are still a lot of things to study in this course hence I have decided to apply for MBA in USA as MBA degree holders are in great demand by recruiters on global scale. Being in this field is not like only studying, although I will enjoy the subjects and after completing this degree it will be easy for me to apply for jobs in government as well as in the private sector. An MBA degree will give a great boost to my career. I am positive that I can learn great things from this course which will help me to grow on a professional as well as on a personal level.

Regards,

Mandeep Kaur.
