LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

I am very pleased to write a few words for NAMAN PUNJ. In my professional capacity as Political Science teacher, I first came across him as a student who was sharp, bright and very enthusiastic during lectures. I should emphasize that's he is very accurate and diligent in his academic work. I saw him mature as a good student and an equally good individual.

He evolved as a dependable, intelligent, erudite, emotionally stable person who is able to generate new ideas, find untraditional solutions, and I can add that it would not be an exaggeration, if I describe him quite assertive. Academically amongst the top students of his class, he was one of the rarest students who had been very curious and enthusiastic in his approach. He is strongly equipped with fundamentals of the subject. During the course of studies, I came across him as a sincere and hardworking student. His pragmatic skills and application capabilities are worthy of irresistible praise.

He has a good attitude and capable of working in a group as well acting independently. I can say that he is one of the best students among the ones I had supervised for the last few years. Seeing his serious yearning for further education, persistence and striving for purpose, I think that he will realize his huge potential and inevitably obtain excellent results in his future career.

As a teacher, I consider the applicant as a gifted and promising student. I highly recommend him for degree course he has chosen in your highly esteemed university. I am sure that he will successfully accomplish his degree.
