Murugan (R)

After completing my Bachelor of Commerce in 2023, I took a year to explore the accounting field more deeply. During this time, I focused on enhancing my understanding of key accounting principles and practices through various online courses and resources. This not only solidified my passion for accounting but also equipped me with valuable skills that I believe are essential for my future studies and career. I applied for a Master's degree to further my education and professional development; however, my initial visa application was unfortunately refused. This setback has not deterred my commitment to pursuing my goals, and I have taken the opportunity to refine my application and gather more relevant experience. I am now excited to reapply for the next intake, confident that this additional time has better prepared me for the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead in my academic journey.
