DO NOT BRING THIS TO YOUR INTERVIEW

Having been passionate about the food industry from the very beginning, I pursued a Bachelor's degree in Culinary Arts, which I completed in 2024. After graduating, I decided to take some time to explore and research the evolving trends in this industry, particularly the rise of food delivery platforms like Zomato and Swiggy. I was fascinated by how these platforms have transformed the way people access food, creating opportunities for innovations such as cloud kitchens. I spent this time analyzing how cloud kitchens operate, focusing on their cost-effectiveness, streamlined operations, and ability to cater to high-demand delivery markets. This research helped me understand the potential of combining culinary expertise with technology-driven business models. I decided to pursue an MBA to develop the business acumen and management skills needed to establish my own cloud kitchen in the future.
