Bawandeep

During my gap period, I explored my sr sec. course contents and found the connection between sociology and business, focusing on how consumer behavior influences market trends and economic development. I researched how ethical and sustainable businesses create positive social change while remaining competitive. To gain practical insights, I studied case studies of companies implementing responsible business practices and attended discussions on social entrepreneurship. This experience strengthened my interest in business studies, as I aim to develop a venture that balances profitability with social impact.
