+2 Science to Bachelor in Health Services

16. NAVNEET KAUR 2024 GAP

After completing my studies in 2024, I've focused on gaining a comprehensive foundation in health services administration, a field I have long aspired to pursue for my bachelor's degree. To ensure I approached this goal with some basic knowledge, I dedicated time to self-study, which involved exploring key principles of healthcare management, the structure of healthcare systems, and the latest trends in the field. Additionally, I conducted a detailed review of university programs, carefully studying course structures, specific topics covered, and essential readings. After selecting my ideal study destination, I took the English proficiency test, met all the application requirements, and confidently applied for the 2025 intake to start my formal education in Health Services Administration
