B.ed (2023) → Pg Diploma
Dimple New Gap

After earning my B.ed in 2023, I began tutoring students at home—an experience that quickly became more than just teaching. I observed the gaps that traditional methods couldn't fill, especially when students struggled with one-size-fits-all approaches. That's when I began exploring how adaptive learning tools could bridge these gaps. I mapped out ideas, tested platforms, and imagined what a truly student-centric digital classroom could look like. But I also realized something important—innovation in education needs strategy, leadership, and a business mindset. This gap period became the foundation of my purpose. Now, I'm pursuing a PG Diploma in Management to equip myself with the tools needed to lead in the EdTech space—not just as an educator, but as a changemaker.
