[GAP - 2020]

[+2 Medical to Bachelor of Public Health]

From a young age, I've been drawn to health-related causes. Being a part of the NSS team during school gave me my first experience in community service. After completing my +2 in Medical in 2020, I saw how unaware many teenage girls were about hygiene and common issues like PCOD and PCOS. Along with a few friends and under the guidance of our school teachers, we started organizing awareness sessions in schools nearby. Our aim was to educate young girls about menstrual health and hormonal balance. As we continued, I felt more connected to this cause and witnessed how impactful health education can be. That's when I decided to take this passion to the next level by formally studying Public Health. Now, I'm preparing to pursue a degree in the USA.
