+2 (Medical) → Bach. in (2024) Biology
Shagun

I had just finished my 12th in Medical, and instead of rushing into the next step, I allowed myself a pause—a space to explore. One day, while casually watching Shark Tank, something clicked. It wasn't just the business pitches that intrigued me, but the way people were turning wellness ideas into real, impactful products. Around the same time, I started reading about herbs and Ayurveda, which had always fascinated me because of their deep roots in nature and healing. I began connecting the dots—how modern biology and ancient remedies could come together to create meaningful solutions. Over the next few months, I immersed myself in this blend of science and tradition. It became clear that to turn this curiosity into something real, I needed a strong scientific foundation. That's when I decided to pursue a Bachelor's in Biology from USA.
