GAP - 2023

Completing my senior secondary in 2023 opened the door to many options—but also a conflict between my father's expectations and my own passion. As a government servant, he initially wanted me to pursue a stable job in the public sector. However, I was more drawn toward becoming a businesswoman and launching my own retail franchise in India. I envisioned working in sectors like beauty, fashion, or lifestyle—owning a brand like Nykaa, H&M, or Miniso. After many discussions, my father understood my ambition and is now fully supportive. During this gap, I explored the retail industry and laid the foundation for my goals. With his support, I've chosen to pursue business studies in the USA to gain global exposure and prepare for my entrepreneurial journey.
