PERSONAL CIRCUMSTANCES

After completing my senior secondary I tried my hands in Cosmetology as this market is increasing with a rapid rate in today's time. I realized that I can learn this skill and make a living out of it. I have completed my diploma in Cosmetology in November 2018 in which I have learned many different courses and skills.

After that I started working as a freelance makeup artist and also worked in different salons and after working for almost 2-3 years I decided to take a chance and open my own salon in my hometown for that I have decided to learn business skills from one of the best country USA and one of the best University SUNY Buffalo. I hope university will consider my application and will give me a chance to grow in my personal as well as professional life.

I have also give IELTS exam for the same and Scored overall 7 bands in that.

The lessons we take from obstacles we encounter can be fundamental to later success. Recount a time when you faced a challenge, setback, or failure. How did it affect you, and what did you learn from the experience?

Obstacles are a universal part of life, and the lessons we take from them often serve as the foundation for our future success. These challenges, setbacks, or failures can be disheartening in the moment, but they offer an opportunity for growth that often goes unnoticed. Reflecting on a time when I faced a significant challenge, I have come to realize how adversity not only tests one's resilience but also teaches invaluable lessons about perseverance, adaptability, and self-awareness.

One of the most significant obstacles I encountered came during my senior secondary education period. I had been juggling a demanding academic schedule, extracurricular activities, and part-time work. At the time, I believed I was managing everything well. However, when final exams arrived, I quickly realized that I had spread myself too thin. One particular course, which I had initially found easy, presented a challenge I wasn't prepared for. The material was more complex than I had anticipated, and I struggled to keep up with the readings and assignments.

As a result, I was feeling so stressed at that time. The initial feeling of failure was overwhelming. I had always been a high achiever, and the prospect of letting myself and others down felt unbearable. The realization that I had overestimated my capacity to handle everything at once shook me. But with the support of my family and teachers I overcame this fear and performed in my exams.
